Report Period: Mar 15-Mar 29

Summary of Progress in this Period

This period we created in depth screen sketches and started on a database schema. A lot of progress this period was in discussion with BuilderTrend as we showed them mock ups of what we thought they wanted and got feedback on the design. Ideally this next period will be one in which our design gets to the point where we can start implementation without having to change anything major in the future.

Pending Issues

We have neglected updating the website which Chandler said he would start doing this week. Since we are basing the database schema off the design, we will need to make sure that we are fairly certain of what the design will look like and then make the database schema more concrete. When the design is at an acceptable stage, we will start looking into the backend logic.

Plans for Upcoming Reporting Period

Our plans for the upcoming period include completing the second version of our design document. Additionally, the front end members will finalize their mock line item container page while the back end will update their database schema to reflect off those designs.
